Additional Notes

Administration Fees

Fees will be charged quarterly to your account on a pro rata basis in arrears, based on the portfolio value at each quarter end. Invoices are available on request.

Brewin Dolphin may receive commission and/or fees for placing funds/investments with other financial institutions such as life assurance companies, banks, fund managers and other entities. Details of fees and commissions received or paid to a third party will be disclosed to you in advance. Commission for placing funds on deposit with banks may be up to a maximum of 0.50%.

Secondary Issues (e.g. Open Offers, Right Issues and Placings)

Secondary issues will be charged per our agreed commission rates.

Foreign Exchange Transactions

Where Brewin Dolphin execute a trade on your behalf and you wish to settle in a currency other than the traded currency, or you wish to convert an amount on your account to another currency, the rate used will include a margin up to a maximum of 0.90% to cover the cost and exchange rate risk borne by Brewin Dolphin, if an FX conversion is undertaken.

Intermediary Arrangements

Where orders are transmitted to Brewin Dolphin for execution on your behalf through an intermediary or financial advisor, the commission charged may be shared with the intermediary subject to certain conditions. Similarly if funds are introduced to Brewin Dolphin on your behalf for portfolio management purposes, the fees charged may be shared with the introducing intermediary or financial advisor. All fee and commission sharing arrangements will be disclosed to you in advance.

Investment Funds & Structured Products

The charging structure for Investment Funds & Structured Products will vary depending on the nature and complexity of the Investment Fund or Structured Product and will be disclosed to you in advance.
